Description

The section of 17th century verdure tapestry with machined repairs set between panels of bottle-green 19th century linen, backed with a weld dyed 19th century linen and filled with pure 100% British wool, sewn closed

Our cushions are the epitome of sustainable home decor. Made from worn or imperfect antique textiles which might otherwise have been lost but which remain beautiful and worthy of re-imagining in less traditional ways. We clean and repair highly attractive fragments from our extensive collection to form covers and fill them with pure British wool which is more allergy friendly than feathers and also helps support the UK wool industry
